DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on December 31, 2008 has been entered.
2. The following is a Non-Final Office action in response to communications received December 31, 2008. Claims 1-5 and 7-15 was canceled. Claim 6 has been amended and now pending.

Claim Objections

3. Claim 6 is objected to because of the following informalities: the phrase "means for supporting the head form n a generally upright position" is believe to be in error for -- a means for supporting the head form in generally upright position--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ryan 3225489 in view of Rouleau 3503581

Reclaim 6, Ryan discloses an educational hair system for teaching hair styling, cutting, coloring and perming comprising a head form having an adult human face including two eyes, a nose, two ears and a generally concave groove formed in at least a portion of an upper part of the head form (see figures 1-3, column 2 lines 52-58), a hair wig formed of human hair and having a forward hairline region and a rearward body region, the forward hairline region having a peripheral area including a fixing means extending therealong and mateable with the concave groove (see figures 1-3, column 2 lines 3-15, the fixing means being retained in the concave groove to secure the hair wig to the head form along the entire peripheral hairline area, wherein the hair wig remains fixed to the head form despite stress related to styling, cutting coloring or perming (see figures 1-3, column 3 lines 1-3).

In addition, the claim limitation "a means for supporting the head form in a generally upright position disposed at a bottom part of the head form" invokes 35 U.S.C. 112, sixth paragraph.

Ryan discloses all of the claimed subject matter as discussed above with the exception of disclosing the feature of a means for supporting the head form in a generally upright position disposed at a bottom part of the head form. However, Rouleau teaches a means for supporting the head form in a generally upright position disposed at a bottom part of the head form (see figures 1-2, column 1 lines 68-71).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Ryan's invention in view of Rouleau in order to provide a stand supporting a wig on a wig head while presenting the wig at the most comfortable and convenient position for performing work (see figure 1, column 1 lines 46-50).

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 6 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure as per the attached Notice of References Cited.
